EDUCATION

Since my last years of high school, I have put much effort into discovering the social and political world. My experiences are characterized by the willingness to understand social citizenship in the age of globalization. I am now strengthening the methodological side of research, in order to pursue my aim to specialize in the field of migration.

SKILLS AND OTHER INTERESTS

Languages

- Italian (Native speaker);
- English (C1);
- Spanish (B1).

Communication

I have had many opportunities to practice public speaking, through political activism and theatrical activity as an actor. Thanks to the plurality of team work activities in sport, activism and university projects, I have developed good conflict resolution skills, which I aim at improving.

Data analysis

- Quantitative analysis

I followed a basic static course at the bachelor and have dug more in depth later during my master course. The courses I have followed and I participated in gave me the opportunity to learn to apply different methods to different issues, and were all employed for group projects. In particular, I can use the following softwares:

Stata: cross-sectional, longitudinal and multilevel analysis.

R: descriptive statistics and basic causal inference analysis.

Excel: basic data organization and visualization tasks.

Lime survey: creation of surveys through multiple types of questions (arrays, filter questions, etc.)

- Qualitative analysis

I am able to design and conduct qualitative researches, in particular when adopting semistructured interviews. The software I am able to use for analytical purposes is Atlas.ti.

Arts and sports

- Enjoys to play the piano, guitar, ukulele and harmonica;
- Enjoys swimming pools and amateur field hockey player;
- Amateur actor;
- Amateur photographer;
- Enjoys sociological, philosophical, religious and historical readings.
